

The Arlington BioBlitz is Saturday, May 20th!

Are you interested in wildlife and plants in our local area?

Do you have any expertise with identification or are you simply willing to help a big nature project?

Then the 2017 Arlington BioBlitz is for you!

Experts and general volunteers will conduct a one-day survey of animals and plants in various Arlington County parks.

Teams will focus on birds, insects, plants, bees, ferns/fungi, and more, depending on the expertise and interests of our volunteers. We need expert or experienced volunteers to lead the groups for each, as well as interested folks to help spot the target species, and record the findings.

Locations: The parks being surveyed are: Barcroft, Glencarlyn/Long Branch, Gulf Branch, Potomac Overlook, Tuckahoe, and Lubber Run.

Times: Various morning and afternoon times on May 20th for one to three hours in length, rain or shine! See Sign-up Genius link below for details.
